

4,000 square meters of comfort.

The Frankfurt Animal Lounge is the most modern animal station in the world and lives up to the highest standards in terms of cleanliness and hygiene. The entire floor space is coated with non-slip asphalt, which is more pleasant and more comfortable than conventional concrete, especially for horses. A total of 42 horse stalls offer ample space. Each stall can be adapted to an animal's individual needs, for up to 28 square meters of space, on request. The horse stalls are lined with dust-free sawdust, and only premium hay is fed to the horses. Specially trained staff and qualified animal keepers ensure that the animals receive individual 24-hour care. With us, your horses are in the best hands.

With us, your horses fly first class.

For more than 30 years, we have provided fast, species-appropriate animal transport, and our global network provides the best conditions to do so. Throughout that time, we have been continuously improving our products and services.

Whether a sport horse, the next generation of talent or a recreational horse, these animals require particularly sensitive treatment, which applies to loading and unloading at the airport, their stay in the transit area and during their time in the air. That is why we do everything in our power to ensure that your horses enjoy the best possible comfort during the entire journey. The exclusive Frankfurt Animal Lounge, our high-quality horse containers and the advanced Boeing 777 freighters, which perfectly complement our proven MD-11F aircraft, represent the cutting edge of what we offer your four-legged friends. It is even possible to ensure the comfortable transport of several dozen show horses on just a single flight.

More comfort for your horses.

Together with Dutch container specialists VRR Aviation, we have developed a comfortable horse container that makes travel more pleasant and less stressful for your animals. The high-quality container is designed for up to three horses and offers the animals plenty of space to the side. A particularly wide ramp also makes entering the container easy for the horses. The interior is painted in light colors to ease horses' fears of the "dark box." Additionally, the separating walls have a slidable partition at the top to prevent animals from being able to see each other. Large windows in the cover, which can be opened if necessary, give horses plenty of fresh air.

More safety during transport.

The interior of the containers is lined with modern plastic materials instead of the typical aluminum. These materials prevent injury and offer improved protection from heat and cold. The floor has also been optimized with safety in mind: stable, non-slip flooring guarantees horses' optimal footing and makes loading them safer.

Easy handling.

The state-of-the-art containers have automatic, roll-up front and back covers. As they no longer need to be rolled up manually, the loading process is faster than ever.

We use cutting-edge horse containers to transport your animals.
